The Basic Cardiovascular Sciences Heart Hub will continue to be updated for 90 days following the conclusion of the meeting.

The screenshot shows the Basic Cardiovascular Sciences Heart Hub website. At the top, the American Heart Association logo and the title 'Basic Cardiovascular Sciences' are displayed. Below the title, a navigation bar includes links for '2020 SCHEDULE', 'EXHIBITS', 'SCIENCE NEWS', 'JOURNALS', 'MEMBERSHIP', and 'CLAIM CME'. A banner for 'VIRTUAL SESSIONS' features a video of Loren Wold, PhD, and an 'ACCESS' button. To the right, a sidebar contains 'NAVIGATION TIPS', 'WATCH' (COVID-19 Virtual Community Forum), and 'LISTEN' (June 2020 Discover CircRes). Below this is the 'EARLY CAREER CENTER' with an event titled 'Amplify the Signal, Not the Noise'. Further down, there's a section for 'EXHIBITS' with an 'ACCESS' button and a tweet from @AHAMeetings. The main content area includes 'TODAY'S SCHEDULE' with a list of sessions for Monday, 'SCIENCE NEWS' with updates on awards and lectures, 'FEATURED CONTENT' with articles on Mitchell Elkind, heart disease statistics, and COVID updates, and 'JOURNALS' with specialty coverage. At the bottom, there's a section for 'INDUSTRY PARTICIPANTS' featuring logos for the American Heart Association, FUJIFILM VISUALSONICS, and ION OPTIX.
